RETHINKING WORK AND DIGITALIZATION TOGETHER

arbeit.digital is a new conference launching in 2026 that aims to strengthen the dialogue between practice, research, politics, trade unions, and workplace representation. The goal is not only to observe technological developments in the world of work, but to actively shape them – in ways that are socially just, democratic, and future-oriented.

THREE DAYS, THREE THEMES, ONE SHARED OBJECTIVE

At the heart of the conference are three interconnected thematic tracks:

- ❶ Europe's Digital Sovereignty
- ❷ Workplace Realities and Spaces for Shaping Change
- ❸ Political and Regulatory Frameworks for Technological Innovation

These themes form the foundation of a three-day conference program:

- Tag 1: High-level keynotes with international perspectives
- Tag 2: Interactive workshops dedicated to the three core themes
- Tag 3: A concluding panel discussion and a closing keynote

A EUROPEAN PERSPECTIVE ON WORK AND TECHNOLOGY

The arbeit.digital Conference is a collaboration between the Vienna Chamber of Labor (AK Wien), the Austrian Trade Union Federation (ÖGB), and the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES Future of Work).

Further details on the full program, registration, and the planned publication will be shared soon.

We look forward to inspiring contributions, fresh perspectives – and engaging with you!
